KEEP UP ROAD BUILDING

Intense Feeling in Tazewwell will Not Interfere With Construction.

As far as the State is concerned, there is no particular interest in the road-building row in Tazewell county. Assistant Highway Commissioner Coleman has returned from Tazewell where he represented his department in the meeting which developed so much personal aertmony.

The whole trouble, it appears, is between a road commissioner and his friends on the one hand, and an overseer and his adherents on the other. The latter was discharged and the fun started at once. Demands were made at the meeting referred to that the supervisors should resign, a request which they courteously declined.

It was agreed that the road commissioner shall be in full charge of construction, with the power to "hire and fire." No matter to what extent his powers may be exercised, the State's Interest is preserved, in that road building is to proceed without delay. Tazewall is sponding a large amount of money in road work as the fruits of a bond lesse voted by the people, and declared valid by the Supreme Court after a context brought for the purpose of testing the law Mr. Coleman has also visited Amelia country, where a meeting held to encourage road building was attended by a surprisingly large crowd.

JOHN GASTON FINED

Chevaller Also Pined for Police Court Remarks.

In the Police Court yesterday morning John Gaston, cook in the Maleon Francaise, a local restaurant, was fined $23 and sent to Jail for sixty days on the charge of putting four live chickens in boiling water. He was prosecuted by the Society for the Prevention of Crueity to Animals, and it was largely on the testimony of Asent Emmert Taylor that he was convicted. He noted an appeal.

During the progress of the trial, Louis Chevaller, Gaston's employer, made some side remarks loud enough to be heard by the function of the first provided that he had been in the Police Court several times recently, and advised to be careful of his conduct hereafter. with a lavish hand, and the McOwen, of Cluster Springs, and S. Bailey Glenn, of South Boston, were awarded first and second honors respectively. Following this was the orators' contest between the two graduates—James A. Taylor, Jr., and Benjamin D. Morton. The former had for his subject "The Confederate Soldier," while the latter spoke of "Those Who Go Down to the Sea in Ships," the theme being the recent disaster of the Titanic. Both crations were exceedingly well written, and delivered with force and earnestness. The judges decided in favor of Mr. Taylor.

On Sunday morning the baccalaureate sermon was preached by Rev. H. Tucker Graham, D. D., president of Hampden-Sidney College. Special music by a well trained student choir was a fenture of the service. On Sunday night Dr. Graham preached the annual sermon before the Y. M. C. A. of the school. Both services were held in the Presbyterian Church. At 11:30 o'clock Monday morning Hon. Richard Evelyn Byrd, Speaker of the House of Delegates of Virsinia, delivered the annual address before the school, his theme being "Civic Righteousness."

Following this the list of distinctions for the Year was read and the

Ready to Begin Fight.

The death sentence against the fly goes into effect in Richmond next Monday morning at 7 o'clock. At that hour begins The Times-Dispatch flyswatting contest, under the direction of the Richmond Health Department, with prizes for the best fly-killers aggregating $110.

It is to be an entering wedge for a crusade against the fly evil to be taken up by the entire system of city government and waged until Richmond becomes as free from flies as it is from typhoid.

Any child, white or colored, in the city of Richmond may enter, and the plan is the simplest. The idea is to
